

STARRY NIGHT WINERY

2002 Russian River Valley Syrah

Our 2002 Russian River Valley Syrah is made from grapes grown in the rolling hills above the Russian River. The area is marked by long warm days and cool refreshing nights, and the fruit from this region is rich, bright and intense. Our 2002 Russian River Syrah was produced using traditional winemaking methods that included the use of small open top fermenters and hand punch downs of the fermenting grapes.

The result is a wine with bright fresh fruit flavors including red cherries, blueberries and raspberries with hints of lavender.
